HENRY JOHNSTON CELEBRATES HIS EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY AT BANQUET WITH EIGHTY FRIENDS ATTENDING

Five Course Dinner Served, After Which Big Cake In Honor of Anniversary is Cut; Host Gives Talk Telling of His Many Experiences

HENRY JOHNSTON, 111 North Everett street, very fittingly observed his eightieth birthday last night when he entertained at a banquet in the basement of the First Methodist church, eighty of his friends, one for every year of his life.

The basement was beautifully decorated with gorgeous dahlias and chrysanthemums, and large ferns, which in the delicate blends of the artistically shaded lights, made a pleasing effect. The tables were decorated with a profusion of flowers, and as the guests gathered to enjoy the banquet small candles, placed at intervals on the tables, were lighted.

A sumptuous five-course dinner was enjoyed, after which Mr. Johnston performed the ceremony of cutting the magnificent cake which had a place in the center of the arrangement of tables. Each guest shared in eating the cake.

Gives Resume of Life

Following the banquet A. W. Tower, acting as toastmaster, called on Mr. and Mrs. Johnston for a few remarks. Mr. Johnston gave a brief resume of his life during the past eighty years and many amusing and interesting incidents were recalled by the speaker.

Mr. Johnston was born in Oregon, Oglesby county, Ill., October 17, 1841. Many years of his life were spent at Rockford, Ill., where he was engaged in the furniture business, and where he added ten blocks to the west portion of that city. He came to California seventeen years ago, and for the past fourteen years has resided in Glendale, which, he thinks, is the best place he has yet found.

Other speakers called upon during the evening by toastmaster A. W. Tower were Dr. A. L. Bryant, John G. Peart, R. M. McGee and Mrs. George J. Phelps of Imperial. All responded with fitting remarks which paid a tribute to Mr. Johnston.

Presentations Made

During the latter part of the evening Dr. C. R. Norton, in behalf of the guests, presented Mr. Johnston with a beautiful leather upholstered rocking chair, and Mrs. C. D. Lusby, in a similar manner, presented Mrs. Johnston with a gorgeous bouquet of flowers.

LOCAL ELKS MEET IN ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

About 800 Members and Many Visitors Present; Varied Program Is Presented

With the largest attendance in the history of the lodge the Glendale Elks' club last night held their big anniversary meeting and jinks with about 800 members crowding into the lodge building. Besides this number of local members a big delegation of visiting Elks were present from various lodges throughout southern California.

Following the regular business meeting of the lodge, which was but a brief affair, the center of the hall was cleared off and a regulation sized roped ring was erected. Irving H. Oliver, who was in charge of that part of the entertainment, then presented three four-round boxing matches, all of which received cheers of approval from the onlookers. The first bout was between Johnny Leech and Ed Fitz, the second between Young Kendig and Ralph Myers and the main feature a torrid go between Johnny Myers and H. H. Graham.

Movies of Recent Picnic

The merrymakers then surged downstairs to the jinks room, where they enjoyed a generous course of refreshments while being entertained on the screen by the showing of moving pictures of the recent Glendale Elks' picnic at Newhall. The pictures clearly showed various members of the lodge and their families enjoying the old fashioned picnic, which was held two weeks ago.

Following the "feed" the evening's entertainment was resumed in the lodge room, where W. B. Kelly acted as official announcer for the various numbers on the program. The entertainment, which was arranged by Walter Butterly, consisted of a regular ten-act vaudeville show, each of which was encored several times.

Program is Success

The program, which was composed of vocal selections, classical dancing and several special and novel acts, was presented by E. Albright, Eva Balfour, M. L. Pumbert, Helen Byers, Bonnie Mails and others.

Besides those already mentioned last night's jinks was "put on" by A. L. Ferguson, Vincent Salmacia, J. T. Timmons and Will Chapman of the jinks committee, and Joe E. Bellue, Jack Hearnshaw, E. P. Hayward, Harry Whaley and Bob Jensen.

REV. H. G. PRESTON WEST METHODIST NEW MINISTER

Served as Private In World War; Married and Takes Residence In Parsonage

"I am highly pleased to live in Glendale and am a booster already," stated Rev. Harley G. Preston, new pastor of the West Glendale Methodist church, whose wife and baby, Virginia, are moving here from Moorpark this week and will live at the parsonage, 215 Pacific avenue.

Rev. Preston formerly lived in New York City, but served as a pastor for five years in Philadelphia. Though married and supporting his mother, he resigned his pastorate and enlisted as a private in the late war. He was in service two years, one of which was overseas with the Sixth Division in Alsace and Argonne and later in Germany. He became a first-class sergeant and had been recommended for a chaplaincy when the armistice came.

Two years ago the Preston family came to California where Rev. Preston joined the Southern California Conference of the Methodist church and was assigned to the church at Moorpark. He is a member of the Ventura County Post of the American Legion and a member of the Knights of Pythias.

Large Number Present

A large congregation was present last Sunday morning at Rev. Preston's opening sermon on the subject, "Getting Good from Christianity."

"What else would one get from Christianity but good," inquired Rev. Preston. "However, there are many people who profit from Christianity who are getting no personal direct good from Christ ecause they are not in touch with Christ. One of the first conditions for getting help from Christianity is: Faith in the heart—not scientific belief but implicit trust in a higher power.

"Some folks choose the line of least resistance, especially in matters of religion. There are lots of people who insult God by asking him to put religion into their pocket. 'The Lord

A. J. Van Wie New City Clerk; Chosen at Council Meeting

A. J. Van Wie is now city clerk for the city of Glendale. He was appointed at the meeting of the City Council last night, a special meeting having been called to consider various municipal matters.

J. W. Blake, who was recently appointed city clerk to fill the vacancy caused by the transfer of J. C. Sherer to the office of city treasurer, tendered his resignation, effective at once, and on motion of Councilman S. A. Davis, it was accepted.

On motion of Councilman A. H. Lapham Mr. Van Wie was appointed city clerk, the action being unanimous.

The new city clerk was formerly employed with the city of Glendale as bookkeeper and night desk sergeant in the police department, and later in the building inspector's office. He was a candidate for city clerk at the recent municipal election. Mr. Van Wie was formerly a newspaper man.

Mr. Blake, the retiring city clerk, said this morning he had an offer of a position in Los Angeles and in justice to himself had decided to resign and accept it.

LEASE HOME IN GLENDALE

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Ward of Wichita Falls, Texas, for the past two months have been guests at the home of Mr. Ward's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Blankenship of 1317 North Brand boulevard, have leased a home at 438 West Pioneer Drive. Mr. Ward has secured a position as physical director at Hollywood High school.

EIGHT MORE TRAINS WILL STOP HERE DAILY, REPORT

Increased Service Is Secured for Glendale by Efforts of Local C. of C.

F. S. McGinnis, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific at Los Angeles, recommends that Glendale have eight more trains stop here daily giving a total of eighteen, according to the report made by a special committee on railroads to the Chamber of Commerce directors at their meeting this afternoon.

Peter L. Ferry, chairman of the committee, declared that the increased service would be of great advantage to this city and he believed Mr. McGinnis' recommendations would be authorized by the Southern Pacific. The matter of a new station also is to be taken up later with Superintendent Whalen.

Increase In Service

Except for the Owl, Lark and Sunset Limited, all trains on both the valley and coast routes of the Southern Pacific will stop here under the plan, giving Glendale 75 per cent of the Los Angeles service. One train only heretofore has been stopping regularly at the station in Southern Glendale and two others stop on flag. Mr. McGinnis fully appreciated the necessity for better service, according to Mr. Ferry and Directors Dan Campbell and George Bentley, the other members of the committee.

The F. P. Newport Company desires to lease the present Chamber headquarters for a downtown real estate office for the Verdugo Woodlands tract, according to Secretary James M. Rhoades, in presenting the subject to the directors.

Letter From Lineberger

A communication was received from Congressman Walter F. Lineberger telling of his work for an independent postoffice, his letter being dated the day prior to winning the victory already related in the columns of The Glendale Evening News. He emphatically denied that Los Angeles' influences had deterred his work and stated that he had pushed the proposition in the face of adverse reports.

CONFER WITH PRESIDENT ON CALIFORNIA OIL STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The strike in the California oil fields was taken to the white house this morning by Secretary of Labor Davis and Thomas O'Donnell, a California producer, and president of the Petroleum Institute. Davis and O'Donnell, after a number of conferences, went to the white house for a conference with President Harding. They would not discuss the situation other than to say that prospects of an early settlement of the California oil difficulties are bright.

HARDING SENDS MESSAGE TO KING GEORGE OF ENGLAND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Expressing the belief that the British and American representatives at the armament conference will cooperate with other nations to bring about an understanding which will make possible a reduction of armament "through diminishing possible causes of war," President Harding today cabled King George of Great Britain, acknowledging the offer of the king to confer the Victoria cross upon America's unknown soldier to be buried at Arlington on Armistice day.

SAWTELLE IS TODAY CITY WITHOUT ANY GOVERNMENT

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—The community of Sawtelle, which, during the recent months has been considered a part of Los Angeles, became today a city without a government. Following a decision of the state supreme court that the annexation election under which Sawtelle became a part of Los Angeles was illegal and the refusal on Saturday of the court to rehear the case, Los Angeles municipal officers withdrew from the district during the night. At dawn today the residents of Sawtelle found the city police, fire department, the building inspector and other Los Angeles officials had vanished. Teachers of the Los Angeles city schools remained to instruct the Sawtelle children, but they were uncertain of their status. A meeting of Sawtelle residents will be held tonight to select temporary municipal officers.

RULE AGAINST BALL BARNSTORMING MAY BE CHANGED

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The rule against barnstorming by world series players, which has caused a wide breach between Commissioner Landis and Babe Ruth, either will be abolished or amended, according to the belief expressed in local baseball circles today, and it is expected that action will be taken during the next joint meeting of the major leagues this winter. The commissioner has promised to mete out punishment of Ruth and his fellow players on the Yanks and it is expected the promised action soon will be forthcoming. Just what form this punishment will take or how severe it will be is the question interesting baseballdom. On this point opinion varies all the way from a heavy fine and a month's suspension to suspension for a year. It is not believed generally, however, that Commissioner Landis will keep Ruth out of the game during the entire 1922 season.

IRISH PEACE CONFERENCE MAKING STRIDES, CLAIMED

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Despite the obstacles and recurrent waves of pessimism the Irish peace conference has made unexpected speed towards a settlement, it was learned this afternoon from a well informed source. Optimism at Sinn Fein headquarters and among the British delegates indicated today an agreement would be reached despite the recalcitrant attitude taken by the Ulster unionists. Ulster now furnishes one of the biggest problems. The International News Service is in a position to state that the Irish conference has reached such an advanced stage of agreement regarding the Sinn Fein issues at stake that the parley is being split up into numerous committees to tackle the details of settlement. There was no session of the conference today. So far the personnel of the committees have not been given out. The drafting stage, which is similar to committee work in the American congress—was reached earlier than had been expected.

ADMINISTRATION WILL ATTEMPT TO ENFORCE ALL DECISIONS OF RAIL LABOR BOARD, OFFICIALS STATE

All Parties Said To Have Violated Verdicts And Must Be Called To Account For Their Acts Immediately, Is White House Declaration

By H. K. REYNOLDS
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The administration will seek to enforce all decisions of the railroad labor board as its first step toward averting a nation-wide railroad strike, it was officially stated at the white house this afternoon.

The administration believes that all parties which have violated decisions of the board, both employers and employes, must be called to account for their violations immediately.

The cabinet took no action on the railroad strike today, it was stated, and the administration did not order the summoning of the brotherhood chiefs to Chicago to confer with the railroad labor board. It was stated, however, that the administration is desirous of determining whether the railroad labor board is a futile agency and whether its decisions are to be disregarded.

The conference between the railroad labor board and the brotherhood chiefs is looked to by administration leaders as the most probable means of determining upon what basis the strike which has been called may be averted, it was stated.

The reasonable inference given by President Harding today was that the administration, through the railroad labor board, will call upon the brotherhoods to abide by the decisions of the board and will make a similar request upon the railroad executives and will also ask the railroads to make rate reductions. If these requests are denied then the administration will seek new measures of protection for the public either through legislation which may wipe out some of the existing agencies or through the exercise of the police powers of the nation, giving greater powers to present agencies.

BETTER PROTECTION GIVEN CHILDREN AT CERRITOS

Building Can Be Emptied In Two Minutes; Improvements Throughout Structure

"We can empty the building of its 441 children in two minutes now," yesterday stated Mrs. Annie L. S. Curtis, principal of the Cerritos school. "It used to take four minutes."

Members of the faculty of the Cerritos school are now convinced that it is well provided with fire escapes and that there is no danger of any child being injured in case of fire. Under the orders of the board of education, Logan Hugo, general repairman for the grammer schools, has been working in the interior of the building for more than a week.

The ground floor consists of four class rooms, one at each corner of the building. The eighth grade class at the southwest corner of the building not only opens into the main hall but also into the principal's office from which there is a fire escape at the rear of the building. The other class rooms on this floor have a number of exits into the main hall. New doors have been cut at the ground on both the east and west side of the building. In case of fire the children could leave the building by either the north, south, east or west.

Many Changes Made

The second floor consists of five class rooms with seven exits into the main hall. The pupils using the three rooms on the north side of the building are not using the hall at all, but are passing through connecting doors between the classrooms and down a fire escape at east side of the structure. A new door has been cut between the two rooms on the south side of the building so that the pupils from the room at the southeast corner can pass into the room at the southeast corner and down one of the two shutes to the ground.

The sloyd room in the basement opens upon a basement passage connecting the north and south sides of the building. The other semi-basement room being used also connects with this passage.

New fire hose have been installed on each floor. These are fifty feet in length, one and a half inches in diameter with nozzles attached and are connected at all times to the water hydrants.

The electric wiring of the school is being inpsected thoroughly and if necessary will be replaced.

Merchants' Credit Association Will Be Topic of Discussion

Frank H. Pilling, secretary of the Merchants' association of Everett, Wash., has come to Glendale at the solicitation of local merchants to advise with them on the organization of a Merchants' Credit association. A meeting has been called for Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters by C. E. Neale, chairman of the committee named at a forum luncheon last spring to organize a credit association.

Mr. Pilling has had twelve years' experience in this line of work and is highly recommended by James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who was associated with him for three years in Everett. He will present plans for organizing and carrying out this valuable work in Glendale, which heretofore has had no credit bureau.

Possible Compromise Looms Today In Railroad Disputes

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—The sun of a possible compromise shone through the clouds of the railroad strike situation for the first time this morning. Indications were that events were moving toward adjustments that would avert the nation-wide tie-up of rail traffic scheduled to begin October 30.

Among the foremost of these indications was the expected arrival here

TWO HUMAN SKULLS AND OTHER BONES ARE UNCOVERED

Gruesome Discovery Made by Men Remodeling House on Verdugo Road

Workmen employed by J. L. Egasse, landscape architect of Eagle Rock, in remodeling the Olde Englishe Tea Garden on Verdugo road for Mrs. Hartt, yesterday dug up two human skulls and other bones which are said to include parts of both animal and human skeletons, according to local officers investigating the mysterious circumstances surrounding their burial in a box under the house.

Dr. H. P. Crocker, who formerly occupied the place, told the police officers this morning that one of the skulls was electrically lighted and used by him as a mantle ornament. His wife, he said, insisted that it be discarded and he placed it in a box under the house.

Investigation Under Way

He did not explain fully where the other bones came from, but said he believed they were animal bones thrown to the dogs, who had dragged them under the house, one end of the box containing the skulls being open.

Chief of Police A. O. Martin and Dr. J. E. Eckles, city health officer, are continuing the investigation in order that Dr. Crocker's assertions may be verified.

It is not uncommon for medical students to be in possession of skeletons, and outside of the gruesome discovery there is little importance attached to the find.

W. M'NEAL'S LEG BROKEN

W. W. Brown, salesman of the Nash Agency, while driving on Brand boulevard near Broadway last night, had the misfortune to strike Wilbur McNeal of Inglewood, breaking the latter's left leg. Mr. Brown took the injured man to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital and reported the accident to the police as unavoidable.

PLAN ENFORCEMENT OF DECISIONS BY LABOR BOARD

Cabinet Takes No Action on Strike Today, Conference With Brotherhood Heads

today of R. M. Barton, chairman of the United States Railway Labor board, together with other members of the public group of the board, fresh from conferences with President Harding and other high government officials in Washington.

No definite announcement of any plan of the government to end the strike has been made, but the prediction was vouchsafed today that Chairman Barton would take some action soon after his arrival here toward an adjustment of the controversy.

Heads of 'Big Four' Called to Meet Railway Labor Board

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 18.—Heads of the "big four" railway brotherhoods were today summoned to Chicago by the Railway Labor board to meet with them Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The invitation was made public this morning by Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who stated it would be accepted.

The telegram did not indicate what proposals for a peaceful settlement, if any, the government wage-fixing body would lay before the union leaders, but it was considered certain that the results of the conferences held in Washington between the public group of the labor board and the Interstate Commerce commission would be laid before the leaders as a basis for a compromise of the present tense situation, with the hope that the strike order might be revoked before it becomes effective.

President Harding Places Strike Menace Before Cabinet

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The railroad strike in all its menacing possibilities was put up to the cabinet today by President Harding.

With no signs of a settlement discernible from Washington unless the government itself takes action, the cabinet prepared for a lengthy session with the chief executive. As a basis for their deliberations, the president and his advisers had the conclusions reached here during the three day sessions of the Interstate Commerce commission and the public group of the Railway Labor board.

Outstanding among the conflicting opinions and views which have prevailed here since the strike announcement in Chicago Saturday was the belief in oficial circles that both sides in the present critical controversy and especially the labor group were "bluffing."

Today there is a noticeable change of front. The feeling that the brotherhood chiefs are bluffing still persists, but this view of the situation has resulted in the fear that the leaders in Cleveland, having advanced thus far with their battle plans must carry them through to "save their faces" with their constituencies.

The suggestion will be made in the cabinet meeting, probably by Secretary of Labor Davis, who has gone over the situation thoroughly with members of the railroad board, that a board of conciliation be organized by the president to deal with the impending strike. The staff of professional conciliators maintained by the Department of Labor for the settlement of industrial disputes, is being held in readiness to take up the present controversy, but under the law, these men may not inquire into the present difficulties until formally requested by the contending parties to do so.

Army Preparations Behalf Strike Veiled In Secrecy

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—While traffic experts of the state railroad commission completed plans for emergency truck and water service to serve the entire state in case of interruption of the rail service by a strike, interest today centered in army preparations for the strike.

The Presidio, headquarters of the Ninth Army corps, was a scene of activity which was veiled in secrecy.

It was learned, however, that the engineering corps has recently completed a survey of all railroad and wagon road bridges in the Ninth Army corps area and arrangements could be made on short notice to place guards on all of these structures.

Principal activity was apparent in the air section, however. It is believed that army fliers will be called upon to augment the regular air mail service in event of a rail tieup which included mail trains. Enough planes and fliers are available, it was stated, to establish a daily coastwise service from Canada to Mexico and transcontinental service out of both San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Thousands of army trucks stored at the Presidio probably could be put into service in moving mails and transporting food.

American Legion Striving to Prevent Spoiling Meeting

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 18.—American Legion officials prepared today to "swing into action" the full strength of the Legion hosts throughout the country to prevent the threatened railroad strike from interfering with the national convention which will be held in this city, October 31, November 1 and 2.

Strike or no strike, the convention will be held per schedule, said members of the executive committee.

"The American Legion national convention will open October 31 in Kansas City if only three men are present," was the word received from National Commander John G. Emery from Grand Rapids, Mich.

From cities in various parts of the country assurances began to come in that the Legionnaires would get to Kansas City even if they had to man their own trains. Denver Legionnaires sent word that "we have enough experienced men to man a special train and we will be in Kansas City on schedule time."

Oklamulgee, Okla., Legionnaires announced they would operate their own special train if necessary to reach the convention city.

TRUCK SERVICE FOR STATE OUTLINED BY R. R. BOARD

Emergency Auto Lines Will Be Put Into Operation, Says Commission Head

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Plans for a coinplete emergency auto truck service in the event of a railroad strike tying up the rail lines of the state have been outlined by President Harley W. Brundige of the state railroad commission.

"The railroad commission feels that in case of a complete tieup it it its duty to furnish the people with a complete substitute for rail transportation in the auto trucks," President Brundige declared. "Acting along these lines we are already made plans for this service." He pointed out that already 70 per cent of less than car load lots of freight are being distributed within a hundred mile radius of San Francisco, Los Angeles and other principal centers of the state.

Hard to Handle Crude Oil

The only raw material which the emergency truck system would find difficulty in transporting, it was stated, would be crude oil to interior points for heating purposes.

California already has 771 auto trucks and passenger concerns operating, it was stated by the commission and emergency permits will permit drayage concerns to enter into the transportation business.

Many of the present lines are operating to any only 50 or 75 per cent capacity and will take care of a vast amount of additional business if called upon to do so. Water traffic will also take care of many sections, it was pointed out.

Its own struggles contribute to its perfection.

Like Hermit Crab

"A recent writer has called attention to the coat of mail which nature has placed upon the ordinary crab struggling with the hazards of the tempestuous seas. But the hermit crab, dwelling in the vacated shells of other animals has suffered the penalty of having his coat of mail exchanged for a thin membrane while it has degenerated generally and has partially lost several organs.

"There are some Christians like the hermit crab. Through lack of exercise in Christian work and living away to themselves, away from the sunlight as well as the storms of life, they have become weak and helpless and veritable invalids, spiritually speaking.

Half-heartedness brings no success along any line. We must be in earnest. Now is the day of salvation. Procrastination is the thief of time. There must be a determination to find Christ.

"Say folks, if we all fought the devil half as hard as we fought Germany and spent half the money, time and effort in God's work that we spent in the war that would be the best preventative against future wars and would do much in checking the crime wave now sweeping the country. The trouble with our country is that we are forgetting God. We are leaving Him out of our calculations."

'BRIDE'S SHOWER' IS GIVEN

A very pleasant social affair was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. D. Kenyon, Ivy street, in the nature of a "bride's shower" given by a committee from the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Congregational church which will have charge of the bride's booth at a bazaar to be given at the church early in December. There were about sixty members and friends present. During the afternoon refreshments of punch and cake were served. A goodly number of dainty articles were given for the booth, including handkerchiefs, caps, towels, camisoles, aprons, hosiery, slippers, etc.

Glendale people who have been wearing Walk Over shoes can now buy them at Zite-Leen's, 140 North Brand, for less than Los Angeles prices.—Advertisement.

HUSBANDS ROOT FOR GREATEST WOMAN'S COLLEGE

New Million Dollar Home Is Dedicated; Instruction In Home Arts Is Given

Mrs. Mary Brooks Picken, Vice-President and Director of Instruction of the Woman's Institute of Domestic Arts and Sciences, of Scranton, Pa.

IF ALL the husbands in the world could manage to get out the same night and form a Husbands' Beneficial and Protective Association—

And, if all the members of the association could contrive to hold back about a quarter a week from their pay envelopes to found a great fund—

And, if they should make of their fund a kind of Pulitzer foundation or Nobel peace prize to reward annually the greatest single agency dedicated to relief of suffering among married men—

Then, the Woman's Institute of Domestic Arts and Sciences would win year after year without a dissenting vote.

Of course, the imagination begins to strip its gears when asked to contemplate the possibility of any considerable number of married men slipping the home ties long enough to organize. And the basis suggested for its financing is probably impracticable. But, in case these things were possible and such an incredible association could be formed, the fund would certainly go to an institution that has taught 125,000 women to make their own clothes, trim their own hats and cook real meals.

The Woman's Institute of Domestic Arts and Sciences of Scranton, Pa. has just dedicated a new million-dollar building. Guests of national distinction attended the ceremonies, including Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania; Admiral Austin M. Knight, of the United States Navy; Miss Neysa McMein, the magazine artist, who recently painted President Harding; Mrs. Sally James Farnham, who did a bust of the president in clay; Dr. Thomas E. Finnegan, Pennsylvania state superintendent of public education and Miss Mary E. Sweeney, president of the American Home Economics association, and dean of the home economics department in the Michigan Agricultural college.

The guests included institute students from all parts of the United States, and also from Canada, where the institute's methods and text books were recently adopted by the Dominion government for use in teaching state courses in home economics.

The official and professional importance of the dedication guests attests the dignity and standing among collegiate foundations achieved by the institute in its life of five years. Its physical growth is no less phenomenal. At the close of 1916, the first year of its existence, its staff comprised twenty-five men and women, it occupied 2500 square feet of floor space, and its enrollment was 3022 students. Today its enrollment records show a total of 125,070 students, of which about 75,000 are now receiving instruction; its staff has grown to 546, and it has 68,000 square feet of floor space. It is recognized as the largest women's college in the world.

"Personalized service," rendered unitedly by the whole institute organization under Mrs. Mary Brooks Picken, director of instruction, is the secret of the institute's success. Every personal characteristic of face, appearance, education, taste and environment is known to the institute for every student. The record of them is before every instructor when grading lesson papers and answering letters. The student miles away is visualized like a girl in a class room, instruction, guidance and advice are fashioned to fit her particular needs.

Traces of Poison In Man's Body, Claimed

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Oct. 18.—Chemical analysis of organs of Gordon McHaffie, second husband of Mrs. Lyda Southard, alleged female Bluebeard on trial for the murder of her fourth husband, Edward F. Meyer, disclosed arsenic in killing quantities. This fact was brought out when Chemist Dooley told of his examination of the specimens submitted to him. Dr. W. A. Russell, Hardin, Mont., physician, also on th estand, described the symptoms from which McHeffie suffered and the attitude of Mrs. McHaffie. The wife, according to Dr. Russell, was in a bed in the room where McHaffie lay dying. She said she was ill.

"My examination of her failed to show any symptoms of any illness whatever," said Dr. Russell. "She had no temperature, pulse and respiration were normal, and she was in normal health."

Dr. Russell described symptoms in the McHaffie case similar to those found in the Meyer case and in the Lewis case.

It is announced by Harry C. Posters and invitations, he announces, are being prepared as follows:

"You are invited to attend a meeting of the Glendale Avenue Improvement association, Friday evening, October 21, at 8 o'clock in the council chamber of the city hall. The question is: 'Shall the Salt Lake Railroad company continue to use this splendid street as a right of way for a steam freight railroad to the detriment of thousands of dollars' worth of property, or shall the Salt Lake Railroad compaany be made an electric line and give passenger service in return for the valuable privilege of using Glendale avenue as a right of way?'

Mrs. B. O. Holbrook Is Hostess to Section

An enthusiastic meeting of the members of the Shakespeare section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. A. H. Montgomery is curator, was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. O. Holbrook, 426 West Harvard street, with seventeen members present.

Plans were made for the club program to be presented by the Shakespeare section the third Tuesday in January, which will be taken from "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

The members of the section are very happy over the gift from Mrs. R. W. Meeker of a fine steel engraving by Osborne of a scene from "As You Like It," and which will later find a place in the new clubhouse.

The members of the Shakespeare section decided to co-operated with the drama section and other sections in the purchase of a curtain for use in programs presented at the Masonic Temple and later for use in the new clubhouse. Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, who has been appointed campaign manager of the Tuesday Afternoon club for the election of Mrs. Warren Roberts as Queen of the American legion activities for Armistice week, took up the matter of the sale of tickets for votes for the club candidates.

The study of "Richard II" was begun at yesterday's meeting and the first act was covered. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting of the section will be held at the home of Mrs. Colin Cable, 505 South Columbus avenue, the first Monday in November.

Bantam Exhibit at Big Fair Most Successful

F. Thott, head nurseryman for Downing & Cox, 118 South Brand boulevard, reports one of the largest and most successful bantam exhibits ever held west of the Mississippi at the Riverside County fair last week. Mr. Thott, formerly president of the California State Bantam association, was sole judge of the exhibit, and his task was a large one as there were 512 exhibits, there being one from Portland which consisted of ninety birds.

The state association was formed two years ago at the stock show in Los Angeles, but its activities are not confined to the state alone, its work extending all along the coast, and having many enthusiasts in the mid-western states. The bantam exhibit this year eclipsed other poultry exhibits in the number of entries and in the interest shown, says Mr. Thott.

Home Mission Society Meets With Mrs. Lee

LOCAL WOMEN HELP CAMP USED FOR WAR VETERANS

Ten Houses Are In Need of Furnishings and Aid of Glendale Folk Asked

Mrs. J. E. Rockhold of 330 Burchett street, Mrs. H. B. Wells, Mrs. T. F. Freeman, Mrs. E. L. Young, Mrs. Douglas Balthis and Mrs. Edwin Sadler, all of Glendale, are deeply interested in the Ladies' Auxiliary of the "Rainbow" Division, with headquarters in Los Angeles, which has been remarkably active ever since organization, and whose members are now devoting their energies toward establishing a recuperative camp for disabled soldiers, meaning the ex-service men that so often leave the Crocker street hospital and other hospitals, with no means to enter a convalescent home.

A tract of fifty-six acres near La-Vina, northeast of Pasadena, with buildings adequate for this purpose, originally erected for a sanitarium, has been offered free by L. W. Giddings of Pasadena.

These buildings include a house with five rooms on the second floor, and a large recreation room below, which will make an ideal community house. Marc Hellman of Los Angeles is assisting in furnishing a part of this.

Tent Houses to Furnish

There are, in addition, thirteen tent houses to furnish. The Salvation Army has contributed thirty-five cots. The City Mothers of Los Angeles are furnishing one tent complete. The "Rainbow" Auxiliary will furnish one, to be known as the "Rainbow" cottage. This will not be for the use of Rainbow men exclusively, but for any ex-service men recuperating from illness or disability.

These Glendale women are endeavoring to interest their friends to the extent of donating a few sheets, towels, or a piece of furniture, anything, in fact, that is a necessity. Blankets and comforts will be very acceptable as the home is located in an altitude of 1500 feet and the nights are cold.

Mrs. J. E. Rockhold, who is a charter member of the "Rainbow" Auxiliary, sincerely hopes that some other organization in Glendale may become interested to the extent of furnishing a cottage also. They will be glad to hear from any one that may be interested in this work of helping disabled ex-service men.

Program Is Announced for Local Music Club

The regular meeting of the Glendale Music club, for active and affiliate members, will be held Friday in the music room of the high school. There will be a meeting of the board at 7:30 o'clock, following which there will be a program at 8:15 o'clock, composed of numbers by the Arion Quartette, vocal selections by Mrs. Enona Hopkins. The members of the Arion Quartette are Neva Chilberg, first violin; Mamie Smith, second violin; Marion Matthews, cello; Mrs. Enona Hopkins, harp.

The numbers to be given include "The Swan" (Saint-Saen), "Adoration" (Borowski), by the Arion Quartette; selected, harp solo, by Mrs. Enona Hopkins; "Aria" from "Pagliacci," "I Love Thee" (Grieg), and "Dodossente" from "Faust," by Keaumoku A. Lewis, concert baritone.

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones Attends Music Meeting

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones of 208 South Brand boulevard had the pleasure of being invited as a special guest to attend the meeting of the Music Teachers' Association in Los Angeles last night. She states that a very delightful program was given by Mrs. Catherine Shank, soprano, of Glendale, and Earl Meeker, baritone, and Ann Thompson, pianist.

After the program the president of that organization called upon Mrs. Jones, as president of the Glendale Music club, to tell of the work of the Glendale club. Those present were quite astounded at the remarkable progress which has been made by the Glendale Music club in the short time since its organization. A prominent musician stated that this progress was attributed to the fact that Glendale is a music center, Mrs. Jones says.

Christian Club Will Give Supper Tonight

The second weekly supper and meeting of the Christian club of the winter season will be held tonight at 5:30 o'clock in the banquet hall of the First Baptist church on Louise street and Wilson avenue. A special and interesting program is scheduled and a large attendance is expected. The entire affair is to be in charge of the members of the club from the Casa Verdugo Methodist church.

The officers of the club are anxious that all of the girls of Glendale should "get acquainted" with the organization, and have invited all girls over 16 years old to be present at this evening's meeting.

Silver Spring, Florida, one of the largest springs in the world, fills a basin 200 feet wide and thirty feet deep. The water, which is extremely transparent, issues from several orifices at the bottom of the basin at the rate of several hundred million gallons a day.

GLENDALE WOMAN, AGED 91 YEARS, PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Goldsborough Is Survived by 20 Great Grandchildren; Funeral to Be Private

She is survived by a large family, three daughters, Mrs. C. E. Boss of Glendale, Mrs. Ada Currer and Mrs. G. H. Barger of Long Beach; four sons, Charles L., Harry W., Frederick L., all of Los Angeles, and Herbert B. of Glendale; also by nineteen grand children and twenty great grandchildren.

Impressive Tribute Paid to Memory of Mrs. I. C. Baldwin

Simplicity marked the funeral service of Mrs. Isaelle C. Baldwin at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn cemetery yesterday afternoon, Monday, October 17, 1921. The beautiful, dignified service was conducted by Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the Glendale Presbyterian church, assisted by Mrs. Retts, whose sweet, sympathetic voice was much appreciated by all as she sang "Lead Kindly Light" and "Abide With Me."

Many were the testimonies as to the helpfulness of Reverend Edmonds' remarks. The selected scripture readings were very comforting and inspiring. The keynote of the readings was that of victory, not defeat. The tribute to the long, useful life of the dear mother was beautiful. Nothing could have been more fitting than that one in the sunset of life should have been laid to rest just as the sun disappeared over the hills, in the family lot in Slumberland of Forest Lawn cemetery, surrounded by many sympathizing friends and a wealth of California flowers.

Mrs. Baldwin, a widow, with her son, Perry, and daughters, Jeannette E., Ida M. and Myrtle A. Baldwin, came from Dayton, Ohio, to Los Angeles, eighteen years ago, and have been residents of Glendale for the past eleven years. She is survived by these three daughters and one son.

'Way Down East' at Glendale Tomorrow

In the motion picture production of "Way Down East," which will be shown for the second time in this city at the Glendale Theatre, beginning tomorrow, David W. Griffith spent ten months of laborious endeavor and a vast fortune in the creation of wonderful scenes, said to be by far the most pretentiously ambitious that this unusual maker of screen classics has yet attempted.

As all seasons of the year are shown in a vast number of scenes and episodes, it was necessary to consume this unusual length of time and high-salaried artists were carried long on pay-rolls to be ready at the call for the filming of a scene when the weather conditions were perfect for this work.

Seats are now on sale at the Glendale Theatre box office.

MABEL HAZELIN IS VISITOR

COLUMBUS P.-T. A. TO MEET

A meeting of the Columbus avenue Parent-Teacher association, of which Mrs. C. H. Thompson is president, will be held at the school building Thursday afternoon. At that time there will be a round table for discussion as to the menu for the hot lunches, which are served the children of the school beginning the first of November. Miss Hanson of the High school will sum up the discussion on this subject, after which there will be a musical program. It is desired that a large number of members attend the meeting and take an active part in the discussion.

Much reform zeal is not because "it is for your good," but because it is for the reformer's peace of mind.

MEETING PLACE CHANGED

Contrary to previous announcement the regular meeting of the Thursday Afternoon club will be held next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Hartzell of Brand Blvd and Laurel street, instead of at the branch library building. The gathering is to be one of the most important of the year, and a large attendance is anticipated by the officers.

FIGHT FOR FREEDOM LASTS SIX YEARS; HERE'S MYSTERY

Man Released by Jury After Murder Trial; Who Fired Fatal Shot Unsolved

By RAY HUMPHREYS
Special to The Glendale Evening News.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 18.—Rienzi Dickens is leaving Colorado for Long Beach, California, where he will make his home.

Twelve good men and true—a jury of his peers—has at last, as the culmination to a six-year fight, given Rienzi the right and privilege to leave Colorado and go to Long Beach or wherever fancy leads him.

Up in the district court at Greeley, Colo., this jury has just freed Rienzi Dickens of the charge of murdering his own father. The verdict of the jury came after thirteen hours of deliberation and as the conclusion to the second trial granted Dickens by the state of Colorado, ends a legal battle that has cost the Dickens family an estimated $50,000 and the state of Colorado almost as much. But the young Dickens is free now and he is off for Long Beach.

Bullet Through Window

No crime in the history of the Rocky mountain section has attracted and held more attention than the killing of W. H. Dickens, banker and merchant, and held to have been the richest man in Longmont. Seated in the library of his home at Third avenue and Coffman streets, Longmont, early on the evening of November 30, 1915, Dickens was killed by a bullet from a high-powered rifle, which crashed through the window, plowed entirely through Dickens' body and implanted itself in a brick wall. Mrs. Dickens, seated near, heard the crash of the glass and a splinter of it struck her on the cheek, inflicting a slight wound. A groan from her husband told her what had happened and she sprang to the telephone.

That was all the world ever established fully. W. C. Coulehan, son-in-law of Dickens, who lived next door, heard the sound of the shot and rushed out to probe its source. He found nobody outside. He ran out of the yard. An express driver loafed on the corner. He had seen no one and he had heard no shot. A doctor rushed to the Dickens home, summoned by Mrs. Dickens. The wounded man lived ten minutes, but was unable to speak and tell who his assassin was if suspected. Sheriff Buster organized a posse and the streets of Longmont were combed.

Work on Slim Clew

Pioneers, seeking a reason for the foul killing, remembered that Dickens had once led a posse that ran down and captured a man named DuBois, who had been an early day gunman. Friends of DuBois had sworn revenge. That was the slim clew police had and the family of Dickens offered a reward of $1,000 for any trace of the slayer or his capture.

Detectives began digging. It was found that Bill DuBois gunman, had cursed Dickens, leader of the Indian day posse, with his dying breath. DuBois, a French-Canadian, had an evil reputation. The government sleuths nailed him for alleged stealing of mail sacks and the trial was held in Burlington, Colo., a pioneer town now extinct. Ed Kinney testified against DuBois, but the evidence was flimsy. DuBois was released and a short time later shot and killed Kinney. A posse, with Dickens and captain, rode DuBois down, and DuBois, shooting his pony, took refuge behind the carcass. A gun battle followed and the gunman was seen to collapse. Dickens rushed forward, DuBois suddenly revived, and fired, clipping Dickens' hat.

Cursed with Last Breath

"Curse you, Dickens, you've killed me," shouted DuBois. "May you die as I have, with blood and hating!"

DuBois slumped earthward again and was dead when posse members reached his side. That was the history of the threat that some unknown pal of the slain gunman was supposed to have made good at last.

Then, out of a clear sky, came a belt that threw Longmont into an uproar. At the close of the funeral ceremonies for Dickens a deputy sheriff arrested Rienzi Dickens, the son. District Attorney Fleming announced that formal charges of murder would be filed, charging the son with the slaying of the father, and these charges were filed immediately thereafter. A Denver policeman, E. L. McKinnin, had, by chance, stumbled on to the fact that the younger Dickens had purchased a high-powered rifle with a silencer from the Tritch Hardware company of Denver.

Five Shots, Four Shells

A search revealed parts of this gun in Rienzi Dickens' garage, the barrel in a barn a block away, and shells in the rear of the Dickens home. Dickens denied that he owned such a gun until confronted by the police, then he acknowledged it.

Asked if he had fired the gun he replied that he had fired it five times. This, he explained, was on the prairie near Longmont. He offered to take police to the spot where the empty shells were. He did. They found only four shells.

The investigation, going deeper then, revealed that Dickens was heavily in debt, owing, it was said, between $35,000 and $40,000 and that he had sent his family to a show the night of the killing of the elder Dickens. Police declared that it had been the evident intention of the slayer to kill both the elder Dickens and his wife, with the one shot, as the gun had been fired from an angle where the aged banker and his wife were in a straight line. But that was about as far as the case went, in certainties, at the time. Dickens denied his guilt emphatically.

Convicted at First Trial

Followed then the first trial. Dickens was convicted of second degree murder and sentenced to serve not less than eighteen or more than twenty-seven years in the state penitentiary at Canon City. The supreme court, appealed to, granted the convicted man a rehearing by a four to three vote.

The second trial was a bitter contest of brains and money and ended, a couple of days ago, with the freeing of Rienzi Dickens. Intense feeling has burned in the state since the killing and the Dickens case was followed closely by thousands of citizens—some for Dickens, some against him. It was characterized as one of the most expensive cases ever tried in Colorado courts and the trials attracted national interest.

But Rienzi Dickens is free now and he's going to live in Long Beach, California, where the weather is milder than in Longmont, Colorado.

SOUTH PASADENA TO BATTLE MIDGETS ON LOCAL LOT

Coach Butterfield Develops a Strong Squad of light Lads; Leads List

The third round in the play of the lightweight football season of the Central league is scheduled to take place this afternoon, with Glendale drawing a game on the local lot. The Red and Black clad pigskinners will be pitted against the South Pasadena 130-pounders, and as a particularly keen rivalry has always been held between the two schools a real "battle royal" is expected.

Coach Butterfield has developed an exceptionally strong squad considering the fact that this is the first year in the American game for most of the players, his efforts toward building up a winning aggregation having made him a strong favorite among the boys.

Team On Top of Heap

The team is now resting comfortably on the top of the percentage column, with two games won and none lost, and a number of local football followers are already trying to figure what team will be pitted against Glendale in the semi-finals for the championship of southern California. The players are not so over-confident, however, and are being careful by not "counting their chickens."

The Midgets went through a final workout yesterday by engaging in a hopeless half hour's scrimmage with Head Coach Hayhurst's first team.

Athletic Club Meeting Plans for Social Time

Further plans of organization and arrangements for the benefit dance and entertainment were discussed at the regular meeting of the Glendale Athletic club at 111 East Broadway last night. An enthusiastic gathering participated in the general discussion for the future of the organization.

The committee on constitution and by-laws reported progress and submitted several articles for the ratification of the club. A resolution was adopted admitting the first fifty members as charter members of the club.

The entertainment committee, composed of Rex Pullman and Walter Dodge, reported that arrangements had been made for securing a hall for holding the entertainment and dance some time next month. The date of the event and the numbers on the program will be announced later by a display of posters and programs. The committee stated that a partial canvass of the business men of Glendale showed the merchants were in favor of the organization and many gave assurance of their support.

Walter Dodge, 119 East Broadway, will represent the club during Armistice week celebrations in Glendale, and has begun strenuous training for his boxing and wrestling bouts. The announcement of the use of the high school gymnasium Monday and Wednesday evenings for the club came as gladsome news to the members and will aid much in getting the organization started in its activities.

The next regular meeting will be held next Monday, the place to be announced later by Chairman L. E. Thompson.

Albert Metzetti Wants a Wrestling Match

Ralph B. Staub, 1211 East Harvard street, manager for Albert Metzetti the Hollywood wrestler, announces that his man is ready to meet John (Young) Hackenschmidt, 627 Salem street, in a wrestling bout to be held Armistice Day for the benefit of the Glendale Post of the American Legion. Hackenschmidt is the light heavyweight champion of the coast and Metzetti is a pupil of George Bothner, lightweight champion of the world, who is now 62 years old and has never been defeated.

Manager Staub says that Metzetti is very anxious for the bout as he claims there is some dissatisfaction over a previous bout in which his man and the champion met. Metzetti, says Manager Staub, asks only his training expenses and says he will donate the balance to the benefit of the American Legion.

People have fairly good reasons for their opinions if they could only remember what those reasons are.

It is not generally known that "Bud" Fisher, the creator of Mutt and Jeff is the owner of a number of high class race horses. That he has been successful with his stables is evidenced by the fact that the Latonia track which has just closed Fisher's horses led the winners with a total of $23,625 in stakes won.

Harvard has a super-strong man. His name is Ignatius Neubauer. He is 25 years old, weighs only 160 pounds and is only 5 feet 6 inches in height. Some of his feats are lifting a 217-pound weight over his head with one hand; lifting 2,900 pounds with his back; holding a team of horses with harness round his chest, etc. He has broken all the Harvard strength test records and succeeded among other tests in raising a 200-pound weight over his head nine times in thirty seconds with both hands.

Who ever heard of a college football coach welcoming the coach of an opposing team to witness secret practice. Sounds fishy, but it is a fact. Last week Bill Roper, the Princeton coach visited Pennsylvania and Coach Heisman of Pennsylvania greeted the Princetonian and gave him the freedom of the field and asked Roper to stay for Penn's secret practice. Secret practice may be necessary, but it is very considerably overdone. Heisman of Penn is one coach who believes in taking some of the mystery out of it.

By being on the one side of a world series contest, Babe Ruth has lost anywhere from $25,000 to $50,000. This is explained by the fact that the home run swatter had offers from cities all over the country to appear in games, some of which are said to have offered as high as $5000 per Sunday game. Last May the Pacific Sports Service was asked, in the event of Ruth's team not going into the world series, to arrange for a tour of California, Oregon and Washington of an eastern team made up of major league stars headed by Ruth. The team was to play on this coast and then ship from Seattle for Japan. However, the project was naturally dropped by the eastern promoters when Ruth's team went into the world series.

The hammer throw has been eliminated from many track and field programs on the grounds that it is dangerous. It looks to us as though hammer throwing is no more dangerous than pole vaulting. Many accidents happen from broken poles and the vaulters falling in such a way as to break a leg. As far as we know no athlete has been killed in valuting, but a number of serious accidents can be cited from the causes given of breaking poles, etc.

Mrs. Strangler Ed Lewis occupied a ringside seat while her husband was engaged in his wrestling match against Stecher in which the decision was rendreed against him. One could have sat with one's back to the wrestlers and by simply watching the Strangler's wife, known exactly how the tide of battle was going. In extenuation of his defeat it may be said he had a cold and constantly coughed during the match, which must have migitated against his chances.

At a recent luncheon in San Francisco to launch the drive for raising funds for the University of California stadium, President Suzzalo, of the Universito of Washington referred gracefully to the splendid friendly relations which exist between the two institutions. These little complimentary things are those which aid in maintaining a spirit of mutual regard and esteem.

Manager Charles Graham of the San Francisco baseball club will keep a sharp eye out for pitchers for next season. He already has started his gunning and every youngster and his elder brother will be under the scrutiny of the Seal's skipper. Graham is offering no excuses for the poor showing made by his team during the last weeks of play, but it is evident that he thinks some of the weakness lay in his pitching department. It must be said for those in control of the Seals that they are willing to pay for a first class lineup.

In its first two games of last season the University of California football team scored 109 points. In its first two games this year it netted 35 points.

Knowing the well known spirit of commercialism which pervades all professional psorts, it must literally make the hearts of the managements of the two New York baseball teams bleed to think of all the dollars they are not gathering in because of a lack of seating capacity. The "standing room only" sign was out for all games, so far as reserved seats were concerned.

EXPRESS HOPE FOR WORLD REDUCTION OF ARMAMENT

Members of Congress Assert Much Good to Result By International Meeting

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18.—A hope that the international conference here next month will rid the world of the evils of competitive armament, rather than a conviction that it will, prevails among a majority of people, according to a symposium of views obtained by the International News Service.

Few cared to flatly predict that the conference would be a success or a failure, but without exception those whose views were sought, voiced a hope that it will accomplish lasting good.

A majority of opinions expressed came from senators and representatives who, theoretically at least, speak for their constituencies. Some views were expressed as follows:

Senator William E. Borah, republican of Idaho: Public opinion, well organized and directed, is an indispensable element to the success of the conference. It cannot be too strong nor too insistent. I believe if the people of the respective nations should cease to be active and earnest and insistent that the conference will accomplish little, if anything. This is peculiarly grounded on the hopes and aspiration of the masses.

They Meet to Agree

Representative Thomas Butler, republican chairman of the naval affairs committee of Pennsylvania: The delegates will meet to agree, not to disagree. It will be a success. There will be an agreement on limitation of armament, not disarmament. There will be a cessation of the armament race, a limitation placed on future building.

Senator Hiram Johnson, republican of California: One thing makes possible real accomplishment and that is the enlightened public opinion of the world. There is but one way in which the world public opinion can operate and that is by publicity. Secret diplomacy will control secret sessions. Rulers are skeptical and cynical. Rulers will win in the dark; peoples in the open.

Representative A. Oldfield, democrat of Arkansas: I don't expect anything to come out of the armament conference. How can we expect anything to come out of it when President Harding is warning the people constantly not to expect too much to come out of it.

Reduction to Follow

Representative Philip Campbell, republican of Kansas, chairman of rules committee: The conference is certain to bring about a reduction of armament. This is the desire of the people of tax-burdened nations. Present taxation burdens must be lightened. Reduction of armament offers the opportunity.

Senator James A. Reed, democrat of Missouri: I don't know what will happen at the conference.

Senator Miles Poindexter, republican of Washington, ranking member of the senate naval affairs committee: The conference will do this, at least, it will find out whether Great Britain prefers her alliance with Japan to cordial relations with the United States. It will also find out Japan's minimum demands in the Pacific. I think the conference will find some basis for limiting armament which will leave the United States equal to any other nation in naval power.

Labor Leaders' Views

Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor: I believe settlement of the Far Eastern questions will be followed by limitation of armament. Labor is for it.

Senator Smoot, republican of Utah: I hope and trust that all that President Harding anticipates for the conference will come out of it.

Representative T. M. Tincher, republican of Kansas: It will be a success. It will bring about a reduction of armament, the more, the better.

Senator Medill McCormick, republican of Illinois: We shall be fortunate if first we can eliminate the principal causes for friction in the Pacific; second, secure some dimmution of the conscript armies in Europe and Asia, and third, achieve a substantial reduction of naval building programs of the three principal powers.

Senator E. F. Ladd, nonpartisan republican of North Dakota: I am afraid this conference is going to deal largely with the problems of the Pacific and, unless public opinion forces it to do otherwise, it is likely to leave the armament question as a minor issue when it ought to be the greatest one.

Senator W. H. King, democrat of Utah: It would have been better for President Harding to have cooperated with the League of Nations for disarmament as provided in the Versailles treaty.

AERIAL SYSTEM FOR PROVIDING FOOD IS PROPOSED

More Than 2000 Planes Will Be Used to Carry Supplies If Rail Strike Comes

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Plans for aerial transportation of food to New York City in event the threatened railroad strike materializes have been completed by the Aero Club of America, it became known today. More than 2,000 airplanes are available throughout the country to supply food to the larger cities, it was stated.

Railroad officials here believe the strike could not now be averted. They declared there was nothing to arbitrate between the roads an .d the men.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner, announced completion of plans for seizure by the city of all foodstuffs here if he feels such action necessary. Distribution of food will be carried on under municipal supervision. Copelaand appealed to the public not to hoard food before or during the threatened crisis.

Fears Coal Shortage

Copeland declared there is sufficient food within the city to last hree weeks. The chief shortage, he said, would be in fresh fruit and vegetables.

The commissioner expressed some concern regarding a possible coal shortage and advised factories and homes to lay in a supply immediately.

Although officials of the big roads coming into New York admitted it would be difficult to obtain experienced men to operate trains if the strike eventuates, they pointed out there were many thousands out of work throughout the country and believed these men would be glad of the opportunity to work on the railroads.

Airplanes for Delegates

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 18.—Noted delegates and guests to the national convention of the American legion which opens here October 31, will be transported to this city by airplane in case of a railroad strike, it was announced today.

The aviation committee of the legion stated that a tie-up of transportation over the country would not affect the convention A thousand airplanes, it was stated, are at the disposal of the legion to convey guests, officials and prominent delegates to this city, if necessary.

Legion Offers to Aid

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 18.—Full assistance in recruiting aviators to fly aerial mail planes in the event of the threatened railroad strike was pledged to Postmaster General Will Hays by the aviation committee of the American legion convention executive committee.

A telegram was sent to Hays offering the services of the entire membership of the flying club of Kansas City in recruiting pilots for the air mail service.

'The Oath' Feature of Today's Program at T. D. & L. Theatre

"The Oath," the photoplay which plays today at the T. D. & L. theatre, is a revelation in the art of the motion picture. In it R. A. Walsh, who produced and directed it, has obtained two intensely dramatic effects which have been marked by critics as being important advances in the art of motion picture direction.

The first is giving the audience a distinct effect of having witnessed a tragedy without ever showing the actual event itself. The second scene which is regarded as notable is the entire lack of confusion is putting over the most dramatic incident ever shown in a motion picture. Rather than attempt to show the effect of the action on the crowd that witnesses it, Mr. Walsh has chosen close views of the emotions of the various characters most vitally affected by the result that the climax of the court room scene in "The Oath" is as gripping a piece of screen art as has ever been produced.

A very unique novelty is also on the bill for today. It is Douglas Fairbanks in "Mystery of the Leaping Fish." This is the first picture Fairbanks ever made, and it is also said to be his worst. Of course, he was probably somewhat different then than we are accustomed to seeing him nowadays, as this was his first job in the "Movies." This program will be shown today only. Betty Compson in "At the End of the World" comes Wednesday and Thursday.

Stolen Securities to Total $200.000, Belief

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—The total value of securities in a registered mail pouch stolen from the Riolto branch postoffice here by four bandits may exceed $200,000, it was admitted by authorities engaged in checking the contents of the pouch. Of this amount it was estimated that less than $30,000 was negotiable. The securities were mostly from banks and brokerage houses en route to the east. In almost every case they were insured.

CANNOT GET BOOKS IN GERMANY, SAYS COLLEGE HEAD

Former 'Better Classes' Are Poverty Stricken, Asserts Ex-Kaiser's Adviser

By FRANK E. MASON
Written for International News Service.

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—"Berlin university theological students in many cases cannot afford to buy even a Greek and Hebrew testament," said Professor Adolph von Harnack, noted theological leader, formerly advisor of the Kaiser and head of the Berlin university. He is the celebrated author of the "History of Dogma."

"A Greek testament costs about 35 cents in American money at the present time, and it may seem very strange to you that students cannot afford to make this small outlay of money. Theological students can manage to get their food and lodging, but books are more difficult. The American Quakers are feeding a great many of our students.

How Do They Live?

"Many can buy their Bibles, but we need about 100 Greek and 100 Hebrew testaments for the poorer students. Poverty in Germany today is not to be found in the so-called slums or tenements, but in the homes which before the war were called comfortable middle class. For instance, a school teacher in the graded schools is paid in American money, at the present time about $200 a year. A high school teacher or college professor gets no more than $300.

"You ask how they live? There are never any new clothes; food is of the simplest—bread, soups of a thin sort and occasionally sausage as a delicacy. As far as music, opera and theatre are concerned, they have long since been forgotten."

BRICK BLOCK WILL BE BUILT, ORANGE AND COLORADO

S. P. Stanford Sells Property to H. H. Huntington, Head of Rubber Company

S. P. Stanford, father of J. F. Stanford, realty dealer and contractor, 112½ South Brand boulevard, announces that he has disposed of his property at the northwest corner of Orange and Colorado streets to H. H. Huntington of Los Angeles, the consideration being $15,000. The property consists of a seven-room dwelling and a lot 50 by 160 feet.

Mr. Huntington is a member of the Huntington Rubber company, a newly organized concern, states Mr. Stanford, and intends to remove the house at once and construct a two-story brick dwelling on the lot. The first floor will probably be used for store rooms, said Mr. Stanford, and the second floor for either apartments or offices.

Mr. Stanford intends to go to Indio, where he will remain during the next six months, and while there he will build a modern dwelling, after which he will return to Glendale and build a home to reside here permanently, he says.

Loss of Fireplace Is Causing Lack of Love

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 18.—The passing of the old-fashioned fireplace has much to do with the breaking up of home life, according to Annette Adams, former assistant attorney general of the United States.

"Who ever heard of a young man proposing to a girl about a steam radiator," Mrs. Adams asked her audience at a meeting of the California Development association.

"Now the fireplace or the comfortable family stove is a source of inspiration and creates sentiment. Seated around a cozy fire a young man is more likely to propose than at any other place except a moonlit garden."

China's Delegates to Conference Selected

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18.—China will entrust her fortunes at the Far East conference here next month to four principal delegates, three of whom are graduates of American universities. It was officially learned that the Chinese delegation will consist of the following:

Dr. W. W. Yen, minister of foreign affairs; Dr. S. K. Alfred Sze, minister to the United States; Dr. Wellington Koo, minister to Great Britain, and Dr. W. H. Wang, former minister of foreign affairs and now chief justice of the Supreme court of China.

John D. Likes Girl's Song; Gives 20 Cents

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 18.—John D. He was crossing in his automobile and the little girl was in another car.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 18. The railroad commission has authorized issuance of securities by California power corporations aggregating nearly $6,000,000. The Great Western Power company was permitted to issue and sell $440,000 bonds at not less than 90 per cent of their face value.

The California and Oregon Power company obtained an order for the expenditure of $109,466 of the proceeds from bond sales already authorized.

The Puente Packing company of Puente, Los Angeles county, also obtained permission to sell $50,000 capital stock.

Business in Mexico Is Growing Better, Claim

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 18.—"The United States has seen the worst of her industrial and financial troubles, and the course of business is now upward instead of downward," declared Thomas W. Lamont, famous American banker, here. Mr. Lamont is in Mexico City conferring with officials of the government concerning the refunding of the Mexican national debt and the possibility of a new loan. Mr. Lamont said that manufacturers, merchants and bankers in the United States were anxious to see the closest possible relations between their country and Mexico.

"Good relations mean good business," said Mr. Lamont. "The policy pursued by the government of President Obregon has been a good one. The excellent results are seen."

Bloodhounds Reveal Body of Prospector

CRESTONE, Colo., Oct. 18.—A coroner's jury decided that the death of James Glasgow, prospector, whose body was found in the Sangre de Cristo forest reserve was due to an accident. Glasgow disappeared September 30, and his body was found by bloodhounds last Saturday, after several parties of searchers had failed. Glasgow was shot just above the heart, the bullet being from his own rifle, which was evidently discharged when the prospector fell over a log. The bloodhounds were brought from Colorado Springs by Otto Quillan, sheriff, and easily picked up a trail nine days old.

Limousine Airplane Ready for Foch

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 18.—The American legion convention executive committee has received a message from an airplane company of New York City in which the company offers the use of a six-passenger limousine airplane for the transportation of Marshal Foch after he arrives in the United States.

Marshal Foch will be one of the distinguished visitors to the convention, which will be held here October 31, November 1 and 2.

The company offered to transport Marshal Foch from New York City to Kansas City, or any part of the journey.

GOLDEN, Colo., Oct. 18.—A new idea in automobile thefts was demonstrated in Jefferson county. James White, a farmer living in the Coal creek district, was driving his flivver along the road a short distance from his farm when the engine stalled. All efforts to fix it failed, and he left for the farm to get a team of horses. When he returned twenty minutes later the flivver was gone. AIRPLANE VIEW OF COLLEGE WHERE HARDING MAKES ADDRESS THURSDAY

William, Mary College, Williamsburg, Va. Dr. J. A. C. Chandler.

Panoramic view of a portion of the campus and William and Mary college, where President Harding is to speak October 19, photographed by United States Air Service from an airplane. The large structure in the center is the ancient main building, erected in 1693. Inset shows Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, vice president of the National Educational association, at whose installation as president of William and Mary President Harding was to make the principal address.

HISTORIC LOCATION SCENE OF VISIT BY PRESIDENT

Dr. J. A. C. Chandler Will Be Installed as President of Famous College

By EARL B. THOMAS,
Written for International News Service.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Oct. 18.—All Williamsburg today is prepared to welcome President Warren G. Harding to William and Mary college, where he will make the principal address October 19 at the installation of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler as president of the college.

The visit of the president to Williamsburg will center national interest for at least a day on what is termed the most interesting section of the country, from a historical standpoint.

Historical Location

The college of William and Mary is the second oldest college in the country. Williamsburg, Va., was the old colonial capitol. There the early royal governors made their headquarters and the pioneers of Revolutionary days—Monroe, Jefferson, Marshall and others—studied and laid the foundations of their careers. Seven miles on one side from Williamsburg lies Jamestown, the site of the first settlement in America; twelve miles distant on the other hand is Yorktown, where Cornwallis surrendered.

En route to Williamsburg President Harding will stop over at Yorktown. Brief ceremonies will be held at Yorktown monument, and the president will be asked to visit the old Nelson house, a colonial mansion which figured in the Yorktown campaign and is now the property of George P. Blow, one of the benefactors of the nearby college.

Plans for President

President Harding's plans include a formal address at William and Mary in the forenoon, at the ceremonies attendant on the installation of Dr. Chandler; a luncheon in the college president's home, another historic structure, and a trip to Jamestown in the afternoon.

At Jamestown the presidential party will have pointed out to them the tomb of Governor Yeardley, the first colonial governor. This is expected to interest the president greatly inasmuch as he recently attended the Plymouth celebration, for it was Yeardley who called into convocation the first legislative assembly ever held in America, in 1619, a full year before the Mayflower had arrived at Plymouth. Few Americans realize that these early Virginians were meeting under parliamentary procedure, and enacting laws before the Standishes, Mathers and Aldens set foot on Plymouth Rock. At Jamestown, too, Mr. Harding will see the tomb of James Blair, founder of William and Mary.

Hundreds to Attend

Hundreds of distinguished visitors have signified their intention to be present when President Harding delivers his address at Williamsburg. The exercises will be held on the college campus, in an open court formed by two weather-scarred wings of the ancient main building, erected in 1693 and designed by Sir Christopher Wren, the architect of St. Paul's cathedral in London. The president will undoubtedly be a participant in the academic procession, which will wend its way from the new college dormitory. Jefferson Hall, to the Wren building, passing through the doors and along the corridors traversed in other days by the embryonic presidents, Jefferson, Monroe, Tyler, Washington; by soldiers, such as Winifred Scott; by the two Randolphs, Edmund and Peyton, and other notables who were once its students.

Old Colleges Represented

Representatives from all the Virginia institutions will be present as well as the various state officers, headed by the governor of Virginia, Westmoreland Davis. Delegates from all colleges in the United States will attend, as will representatives of the various learned and patriotic societies.

With Governor Davis presiding, the exercises will begin at 11 o'clock in the morning on the campus. Dr. James H. Dillard, rector of the college's board of visitors, will induct Dr. Chandler into office and administer the oath.

Installation of Dr. Chandler is of much importance to the entire south. His affiliation with William and Mary, of which he is an alumnus, has already extended over two years, the installation having been delayed because of a bereavement in his family.

England In Earnest on Conference, Is Asserted

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The Daily Chronicle, the personal organ of Premier Lloyd George, in commenting on the reported decision of the premier to attend the Washington conference, said this was the most convincing proof of the British government's recognition of the importance of the meeting.

"If proof were needed that we are in earnest about the grave problems that will be discussed this furnishes it," said the Daily Chronicle.

The newspaper predicted that the United States, by putting the full weight of her pressure behind her efforts will have excellent chances of success in the conference.

The premier is working at full speed "to clear the decks" so that he can get away on November 5 and reach Washington in time for the opening of the conference on November 11.

The first British delegate to the Washington conference to leave for the United States departed today. He is Earl Beatty, commander of the fleet and First Sea Lord of the Admiralty.

Railroad's Trestle Is Damaged by Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 18.—Extensive damage to a high trestle on the Valley division of the Southern Pacific railroad by fire necessitated routing of traffic via Santa Cruz. The fire is believed to have been started by a band of hoboes camped near the trestle. The fire was discovered shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday morning and controlled later by volunteer fire fighters. Repairs were completed at 3 o'clock yesterday.

Power Corporation to Issue Mortgage Notes

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 18.—San Joaquin Light & Power corporation was authorized by the railroad commission to issue and sell $2,000,000 of its unifying and refunding mortgage 7 per cent notes and to pledge with the trustee of this mortgage $1,422,000 of its series "C" first and refunding mortgage 6 per cent bonds. The bonds are to be sold at not less than 95 per cent of their face value and accrued interest.

Appointment May Cause New Vacancy

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 18.—Appointment of John P. McLaughlin as collector of internal revenue, will create a vacancy in the official family of Governor W. D. Stephens. Following his confirmation by the United States senate, McLaughlin will resign as state labor commissioner, a post he has held since 1911.

McLaughlin, when apprised of his nomination, said that his resignation from the state office probably would not become effective for two or three weeks.

B. W. Sherwood Plans Flemish Style House

B. W. Sherwood, designer and builder, 313 South Brand boulevard, is now busy working on a house plan for Miss Emma Potter, who will build a home in Los Angeles after the old Flemish style. In lines the plan is quite similar to the home of Charles Wakefield Cadman, the composer, of Los Angeles. Mr. Sherwood also has the contract for building the house and work will begin some time this week.

Price of Wives Jumps In Africa, Is Claimed

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Oscar Olson, who has just returned from a 5,000-mile trip through Central Africa, where he made moving pictures for scientific purposes, declared today that the high cost of living is even a problem in the jungle and that the price of African wives has advanced from $5 to $6. An extra classy wife costs $6.50. Before the war the best wives cost only $3.50. Some were to be had as low as $2.

Petition Rehearing In Case of Mrs. Peete

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—Contending that the court had erred in reaching a number of conclusions when it refused a new trial, Attorneys Bolkin and Ford filed in the district court of appeal a petition for a rehearing of the appeal of Mrs. Louise C. Peete, convicted in the Superior court on a murder charge of having slain Jacob C. Denton, mining engineer, more than a year ago. The court of appeal on September 26 handed down a decision declining to grant a new trial to Mrs. Peete.

MME. ZULEIKA CO. HEADLINER OF VAUDEVILLE

Woman Hypnotist and Four Other Acts Today at the Glendale Theatre

Headed by Mme. Zuleika & Co.,, "The Lady of Mystery," the Bert Levey vaudeville bill which plays the Glendale theatre today is both entertaining and pleasing. Mme. Zuleika is said to be the only woman hypnotist in America appearing on the vaudeville stage. Her offering is not presented with any idea to explain this mystic power, but is for entertainment purposes only. Her vehicle should prove a great laugh provoker.

Marco & Marco proffer a violin and accordeon musical novelty and should delight the lovers of music. Leroy & May, the musical comedy stars, in their bits from late successes entertain with songs and stories. Granville & Fields, "The Wop and the Girl," have a comedy characterization built for the lovers of laughter. Margarite Marlowe, the singing character comedienne, rounds out the variety portion of the program.

Hoot Gibson in Film

In a screen version of Peter B. Kyne's famous story, "The Sheriff of Cinnebar," which Universal has titled "Red Courage," Hoot Gibson, the smiling star, features in the film attraction today. "Red Courage" is a vivid story of a political fight in the western town of Panamint. It takes a Peter B. Kyne to paint the picture of the absorbingly human characters who live and love throughout the five reels.

"Late Lodgers," a new Rolin comedy, completes the large bill. Paul Carson at the organ will play a big part on the program. Two full hours of enjoyment is assured.

E. D. Yard Increases His Holdings; Plans Large Subdivision

The realty firm of Kelly & Van Arsdol, 106 West Colorado street, announces the purchase by E. D. Yard, contractor and builder, 427 North Maryland avenue, of ten acres at West Broadway and the San Fernando road. This increases Mr. Yard's holdings to twenty acres, or about ninety lots, and subdividing will begin at once on what will be known as the West Broadway Gateway tract.

Mr. Kelly says this subdivision will be one of the classiest in Glendale with Wilson avenue and Salem street, each 60 feet in width running clear through to San Fernando road. The property is now being cleared off and this week the surveyors will have the ground platted and ready for the city to begin work on the streets.

"West Broadway is the gateway to Glendale for all the traffic from the San Fernando valley," said Mr. Kelly, "and the West Broadway expansion will be of great benefit to the city."

Rail Crisis to Harding
Oil Strike Nears End
Beet or Cane Sugar?
Arkansas Is Booming

By Gil A. Cowan

REVIEW the news dispatches from the eastern centers today and see the menace presented by the threatened railroad strike. Every one, everything seems to be going forward in the shadow of an overwhelming catastrophe. They see no way out.

Today President Harding and his cabinet are considering what to do in this moment of national emergency. What the outcome will be cannot be forecast, but it is probable that operation of the rail lines by the government through one of its departments will result.

This conclusion is unsatisfactory to the public, however, in view of the deficit of the recently discontinued railroad administration. Further, no one in the west wants to see the efficiently operated Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Salt Lake lines go back to a wartime basis.

The latter is merely a local angle on a general condition and those who use the trains to travel will agree that no place was government service half as convenient as private management. For instance, it was necessary to go miles to a united ticket office and there the clerks, inexperienced with the multivarious lines, misrouted the transcontinental traveler unless the latter had been over the ground before.

For the shipper there will be the usual red tape that accompanies all governmental institutions, together with the lack of personal assurance of service to be found under present regimes. Certainly no one believes that initiative will be fostered by the government and that is what the movement of freight requires.

In a word, it looks as though the rail unions are forcing the question of socializing the industries. The operators, too, seem to have decided it is the only way—"let the government hold the sack."

An early settlement of the California oil workers' strike seems in sight. That is the word that comes from the White House today. There are several features of the strike which are not generally known.

First, the government ownership of the petroleum industry is demanded by the workers with due regard for the present owners as long as they pay high wages out of the vast profits to be made in oil.

Second, the government must be a party to contracts between the workers and the operating companies because it is the only agency that can enforce terms with the Sun Oil, Royal Dutch Shell and other foreign concerns.

Third, the oil workers of California have so organized that no acts of violence or destruction of property occurs in the fields; that there is no shortage of oil; and that final settlement of their grievance will come from the president of the United States.

That is a considerably different attitude than the rail union chiefs display.

An article appearing in last night's issue of The Glendale Evening News created discussion worthy of comment. E. C. Hamilton, sugar refiner, stated in the story that beet sugar is now equal to cane for baking purposes.

That may be true, but practically every woman in Glendale says otherwise. Which would indicate that prejudice against beet sugar is pretty well established. It must be remembered, however, Mr. Hamilton declared, that in view of modern refining methods one could not tell the difference. Secretary James M. Rhoades of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, who heard the refiner's speech at Oxnard last Saturday, promises he will prepare an article setting forth the proof of Mr. Hamilton's assertions and incidentally show why Southern California should trade at home.

A mighty fine resident of Arkansas called at The Glendale Evening News office this morning and brought with him information regarding the oil development in his former home state. Monticello and El Dorado, the centers of activity, give out glowing accounts of "booms" that equal Burk-Burnett.

Only recently oil was discovered in Arkansas. Gas domes had been uncorked years ago, but no oil. Now that fields have been definitely established and many gushers brought in the state takes fifth rank in oil production and becoming greater every day.

W. O. Bruess Keeps New Industry From Residential Districts of Glendale

Burbank wins the Pacific Coast Tire and Rubber company plant—an industry which W. O. Bruess assured the Glendale Chamber of Commerce would be brought here, it being the plan of this former Ohio tire manufacturer and his associates to locate the industry along the Southern Pacific railroad west of this city.

In effect this has come true for the site selected lies at the junction of the valley and coast lines of the Southern Pacific in the northwestern part of Burbank—a little farther west of Glendale than indicated. It will adjoin the American Aluminum Products plant and the Empire China factory. The executive offices of the concern are now located in the Merchants National bank building, Los Angeles.

Director Verifies Report

This information was verified by the Chamber of Commerce today through Attorney Owen C. Emery, a director, who is also a director and counsel for the rubber company. He expressed regret that the plant could not be located here, but believes a large number of the higher salaried executives will find Glendale a pleasant place in which to reside.

A twenty-acre site has been obtained at Burbank, it is officially stated, and the company proposes shortly to commence erection of a model manufacturing plant. There is $2,000,000 in capital stock to be sold to tire buying motorists and a campaign has been launched to place sufficient stock to build the first unit of the factory which will have approximately 100,000 feet of floor space.

Local Industrial Stimulus

It is said there will be 200 or more people on the payroll as soon as the tire making machinery is operating and this should be an industrial stimulus to Los Angeles' vicinity. While the loss of this factory to Glendale is contradictory to the local expressions by Mr. Bruess, it will be remembered that Los Angeles newspapers in announcing the establishment of this industry some months ago stated it would be in Burbank.

It is said Mr. Bruess expected something more in the way of support than that given him here, but anyone who knows the character of a rubber reclaiming plant which is a part of his building program, appreciates why Glendale should not go far out of the way to induce such an industry to be neighbor of residential districts.

The site selected by the Pacific Coast Tire and Rubber company is admirably situated at the junction of two railroads lines, far from any number of dwellings, and it will bring hundreds of motorists from the southland through Glendale when they go after tires, if the present plans are carried to completion.

Notorious Gunman Is Sentenced to Be Hung

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 18.—"Tommy O'Connor, notorious gunman and convicted slayer of Detective Sergeant Patrick O'Neill, was formally sentenced to hang by Judge Scanlon in criminal court here. The date of his execution was fixed for Decem- 15. O'Connor proclaimed his innocence when sentence was passed on him and said he "would rather be dead than alive in the same world with the people who have prosecuted me in this case."

Talk is so cheap that most of it has to be disposed of at a big discount.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Drink Lots of Water

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water befort breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralizt the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Advertisement.

were the musical numbers. Miss Isabel Isgrigg sang beautifully, "Long, Long Ago," and "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and later in the evening whistled in a pleasing manner "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia." An instrumental trio, composed of Mrs. H. V. Brown at the piano, and her two daughters, Agnes and Bertha, with violin and saxophone, gave a charming number.

Both before and after the banquet Mr. Johnston was showered with hearty congratulations and all good wishes for many more pleasant returns of the day.

NAME LEADERS FOR Y. M. C. A. DRIVE, THIS DISTRICT

Sum of $4000 to Be Sought In Territory to Support Institutional Plans

Eleven Y. M. C. A. teams will be organized to begin a drive in Glendale district the first of next week to raise $4000 which is the quota of this district for the county budget of $20,000 for 1922. The teams are under the leadership of the following captains:

C. W. Ingledue, 530 East Broadway; W. B. Kirk, 504 East Broadway; David Black, 1450 Kenneth road; T. A. Wright, 106 East Broadway; W. D. Root, 110 Olive street; R. F. Kitterman, First National bank; Dr. Charles R. Lusby, 105 North Brand boulevard; W. G. Boyd, 201 North Branad boulevard; T. W. Preston, 330 North Jackson street; Principal George H. Moyse, 322 East Harvard, and H. L. Finley, 626 North Isabel street. These captains will each appoint a team of ten to assist in making the drive a success.

Plan Three-Day Drive

An attempt will be made to complete the drive in three days. Dr. Rensen Du Bois, recently appointed president of Occidental college, will address the captains and the teams at the Presbyterian church next Sunday noon, at which time he will emphasize the value of Y. M. C. A. work in enabling the young boy to get a start in the right direction.

Rex C. Kelley, 102 East Broadway, secretary of the Glendale district, states that should the county budget of $20,000 be raised it will enable the Y. M. C. A. to open up more territory next year. The work in Los Angeles county is unique in that it is the only county of the state carrying on its work by districts, with Glendale the largest district. Each district has a secretary under a supervising secretary.

The high school work is divided in five groups which meet at different churches or homes once a week, and which hold a joint meeting every month at one of the churches. The next regular joint meeting will be held at the Christian church bungalow, at the corner of Louise and Harvard streets, Thursday night.

During its work the Y. M. C. A., states Secretary Kelley, has accomplished much in bringing eminent speakers here for the young men, among some of the prominent authorities being Dr. Winfield Scott Hall of Chicago, authority on sex hygiene, Elwood Brown, head of the physical department of the Y. M. C. A. and Charles Paddock, world's champion sprinter.

ARBUCKLE'S LIQUOR SUPPLY CAUSING INVESTIGATION

Story Told by Missing Man is Under Inquiry; Accused Actor In Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 18.—Special Assistant Attorney General Robert H. McCormack today was conducting a rigid investigation into the story told by Jack Lawrence, missing witness who revealed the source of the liquor supply at the Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle party, upon his return here from Oregon. Lawrence laid responsibility for the alleged "tipping" of S. Gobey's grill on an agent of the Prohibition director's office. McCormick has previously charged there had been a "leak" which prevented seizure of a large supply of liquor. According to Lawrence, it was moved across the street prior to the raid. Lawrence is being held in jail pending his appearance as a government witness in the Arbuckle booze case set for Thursday afternoon.

Arbuckle and his wife are expected here tomorrow and may remain in San Francisco until after the trial. It is understood that Gavin McNab, new chief of counsel, desires Arbuckle here in order that he may confer with him frequently in the course of his preparation of the comedian's defense.

Probe Los Angeles Ends

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 18.—District Attorney Matthew Brady of San Francisco, accompanied by one of his assistants, I. M. Golden, arrived here today from the north to personally investigate certain phases of the case against Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, accused of manslaughter in connection with the recent death of Miss Virginia Rappe.

Brady, it was said, is seeking evidence concerning local Arbuckle parties. He was expected to confer with District Attorney Thomas Woolwine of this city during the day.
